Re: Nomination of Steel Miller for Subpart N NegReg

Dear Sir or Madam:

The candidate, Steve Miller, has my endorsement to become a member of the Negotiated Rule Making Committee for OSHA Subpart N Cranes and Derricks.

Because Steve Miller has been involved in the crane industry since a very young age not only as a competent crane operator but also as a trainer, investigator, and inspector I believe he is truly qualified to bring intelligent input to this committee. Furthermore, since the companies Miller Safety Consulting, Inc. and Crane and Rigging Consultants, Inc. service the construction and industrial industries by training for crane and rigging, accident investigations, and crane inspections nationwide and Steve Miller is an intrigal part of these companies, his knowledge of cranes usage will be an invaluable strength for the Subpart N NegReg program.

Because of my position as B & C Steel, Inc.'s Vice President and the representative for our membership with the Steel Erectors Safety Association of Colorado (SESAC) and OSHA Partnership for Steel Erectors in this region I have the opportunity to attend the monthly meetings. The information learned allows me to bring to my company current issues affecting the construction industry. Due to the fact I am an active Iron Worker with Local 24 I use our cranes daily hoisting and erecting our steel. In addition we have a crane rental service for any commercial, residential, or industrial applications. On several occasions we have leased larger cranes or when the workload exceeds our fleet. B & C Steel, Inc. is signatory with Operating Engineers Local 9 and we employ not only qualified crane operators but mechanics to repair and maintain all our own equipment in house. It is our feeling to have a reputable objective safety program we hire out our inspections for our cranes and follow up with any suggested repairs.

We thank this Agency and the Secretary for this opportunity to not only have this Negotiated Rulemaking Committee but also to recommend a respected individual as Steve Miller for membership.

Respectively submitted,

B & C STEEL, INC.
